

THE DAILY BEE.

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 15.

OFFICE: No. 12 Pearl Street.

Published by carrier in any part of the city at ten cents per week.

Business Office, No. 44
Night Editor, No. 25.

MINOR MENTION.

Pants to order, from $5 up, at Reiter's.
Wanted—A chambermaid and laundry girl to do plain washing and ironing.

The police are on the lookout for a gray stallion, stolen from Z. T. Pack, of Anita.

The new sheriff, Perry Reel, and his family have taken up their residence on Sixth avenue.

The remaining prisoners convicted at the last term of court, were taken to Fort Madison last night.

The red robes in full bloom in the window of J. W. & E. L. Squires' office attract much attention.

Special music has been prepared by the choir for the services in the Presbyterian church next Sunday.

John Gibbons was yesterday fined $10 for being drunk and insulting ladies on the street. He got off cheap.

Theodore Lund now mourns the death of his new Newfoundland dog, a favorite with many besides his master.

A sleigh loaded with twelve couples had a merry time last night enroute on their trip over to Omaha and return.

Regular meeting of Fidelity Council No. 156, R. A., this (Friday) evening.
All members are invited to be present.

For Sale—Fine swell body and Penland cutters, manufactured by E. T.
Waterman expressly for us. Keeline & Felt.

The absence of prisoners in the city jail gave an opportunity yesterday for it to be scrubbed out and the smell changed.

Miss Clara Bebbington and her friend Miss Moore, of Omaha, while enjoying a sleighride, were unceremoniously tipped out on Broadway, but fortunately escaped injury.

Flickinger Bros. have added to the furnishings of their law office a McNeal & Urban safe, weighing 2,500 pounds.
They purchased it through the agency of Field & Shepard.

A team was noticed standing near James & Haverstock's at an early hour yesterday morning, and as no owner had appeared at noon the marshal took the horses in charge and had them cared for at a livery stable.

Dunn and Knight, the two men arrested as being wanted in Sioux City for the larceny of a harness, were still being held here yesterday, no word being received from there in response to the telegram announcing their arrest.

Very few of the saloon men are paying license. Some new kink will have to be taken to pinch them. None of the schemes seem to work more than a month, and it is a sad strain on the brains of the officials to devise a new arrangement every month.

It is now reported that Dorkson, the barber, who skipped out from here to California, has now left his new location, San Diego, under sensational circumstances. His goods being seized for debts, he disappeared from there, leaving his wife in destitute circumstances.

The statement that Miss O'Leary had cancelled her engagement here because she is too ill to appear does not tally with the announcement in yesterday's Des Moines Register that she was to open a three nights engagement there last evening.

An attempt was made yesterday to settle up the matter against Fred Bokemper, by which he is now held in jail for an unpaid fine imposed by the court for selling liquor there. Sheriff Jones was expected to arrive last evening with papers to take him back to Cass county, unless the fine and costs should be settled.

At the time of the court house election money was raised here for the purpose of meeting some necessary expenses. There was a balance left, and the treasurer has donated $25 of this money to the Home of the Friendless and the remaining amount about $50, to the Women's Christian association. This will doubtless be highly satisfactory to those who contributed the money.

For everything in the grocery line give the new firm of Kintz & Kleebe, 162 Broadway, a trial. Everything new and fresh.
Fancy groceries a specialty.

The Bee on the Wing.
HARLAN, Jan. 13.—The district court opened here on Monday. Among the criminal cases to be heard is that of W.
T. Mendenhall for killing Joseph Hines of Panama, Davis for forgery, Johnston for assault with intent to commit murder, and a large number of liquor cases.
The number of outsiders attending court makes it lively for the two hotels, both of which are good, and the City hotel unusually so for a place of this size. The motion to adjudge Dr. Cross to bail has been argued and taken under advisement.

Having put in a complete new stock of clothing, furnishing goods, hats, caps, etc., Fox & Hughes, No. 915 Main street, invite the public to give them a trial.
Their expenses are small and they can and do sell cheap.

Misplaced Couples.
Mary Hitchcock has commenced divorce proceedings to free herself from John Hitchcock, to whom she was married in Malone, N. Y., in 1857. The grounds on which she bases her request are that he has become an habitual drunkard, and that on the 1st of April, 1882, he deserted her and has not returned.

Frank Riddle is another applicant for matrimonial freedom. He claims that he was married to Ada Riddle at Palmyra, Wis., in August, 1876, and that there are two children born to them. He claims that she has become untrue to him, and that at Savaria, Ill. she acted in a very unwifely manner, a man named T. M.
Kelly being the other sinner.

Yesterday afternoon Fryor's Bee job office received a large invoice of the very latest and most handsome designs in new type from Philadelphia and Chicago.
Those desiring fine job printing are requested to bear this in mind.

Change of Principals.

Trouble in the High School.

For some time past there have been complaints made as to Prof. Cosh, who came here from Kansas last fall to take the position of principal of the high school. These complaints were not against his character, but seemed to concern about the one special complaint that he was too strict in his discipline and that he rather bordered on dictatorial control of the pupils under his charge.

That he had frequent occasion to exercise his disciplinary powers and abilities there is little question, but it is said that he has been inclined to go beyond what is necessary. The older pupils are said to have been treated as though spoiled children, and several have been suspended, or expelled practically, for offenses of a trivial nature, which should have been adjusted in some other way. The members of the highest class at last united in a request that he be allowed to resign, and the prediction was made that if his kept on his present course, he would soon be depopulated. The condition of affairs thus getting so badly tangled, the board thought it best for the gentleman to resign, which suggestion he quickly complied with. Yesterday morning he made his farewell address to the school, his remarks being bitter in the extreme.
The farewell address did not contain the feelings of the pupils, and there was no shedding of tears at the departing.

It is easy to find fault with a teacher, and teachers have opportunities to justify and find fault with pupils. In the breaking of relationship between Professor Cosh and the high school, there are doubtless two sides. The board doubtless has sufficient reasons for thinking that in view of the lack of harmony, the best thing for the school is a change of teachers. Cosh will doubtless readily find some new field of labor, and one for which he will be better adapted, and in which he will take more pleasure.

Too Slow an Official Paper.
For several reasons it has been deemed important that bids for the extension of the new sewer ditch be received and considered at as early a date as possible.
The law requires that the advertisement for bids shall appear in two daily papers for five days. The council figured out the time and found that by promptness in publishing the bids could be opened next Tuesday evening, to which time the council adjourned. The publication was scoured in the evening paper, but instead of clipping it out and publishing it the next morning, as is usually the case with the Nonpareil, that paper paid no attention to it. This has necessitated the postponement of the opening of bids to Wednesday evening. It is understood that the reason why the old lady did not put it in her scrap book was because she felt her official position had not been sufficiently recognized by being expected to take the copy second hand. If she was as delicate about using scraps for her news columns as in this case she seems to be in regard to an advertisement, her scrap book would contain more originality.

C. B. Jaquemin & Co., No. 27 Main street, take pleasure in announcing to the public that their stock of carpets, ornamental, stylish and useful goods is complete in each and every department, and cordially invite everybody to visit their store, inspect their goods and compare prices. No trouble whatever to show goods.

Pardoned Out.
Many still remember the arrest and conviction of a boyish looking fellow named Ed Lloyd, for forging J. R. Dayidson's name to a check. He was sentenced to the penitentiary for four years, but he has now been pardoned out. In his possession at the time of the arrest were several letters, the signatures to which had been destroyed, but which indicated that they were written by a fond father, who had done all that he could to keep his boy from going astray, but who had to help him out of numerous scraps. It was afterwards learned that the father of the young man was a prominent resident of Utah, and a member of the Utah commission. He has by his influence, and by the state of health of his son, succeeded in getting a pardon for the boy. Young Lloyd was in poor health when sent to the penitentiary, and has suffered so from kidney trouble and other diseases that he has been reduced to a skeleton, and does not seem to have a very long lease of life.

Merry Jingle.
On Wednesday evening a sleighing party composed of W. C. Estep and wife, Ed Cogley and wife, William Steinkopf and Miss Lotta Forman, Charles Reno and Miss Mary Forman, Will Owings and Miss Mary Tucker, Charles Matthai and wife, George Damon and Miss Emma Fox, John Templeton and Miss Clara Myers, Joseph Smith and Miss Ida Myers, Ralph Williams and Miss May Conley and Lee Forman made the air ring with shouts, tin horns, etc. After enjoying a merry ride they stopped at Louie & Metzger's and partook of an oyster supper.

Morrison Acquitted.
The case of Sam Morrison, the veteran fireman, has caused much talk the past few days. He was placed under the serious charge of having acted indecently in the presence of some little girls, among whom was the 9-year-old daughter of Mrs.

Davis, who keeps a second hand store on Broadway. Mrs. Davis, on being informed by her daughter, was so indignant that she tried to horse-whip Morrison. He at once demanded an investigation, and the committee of the council, which on hearing the charge at once discharged him from the service of the city, granted him a hearing. The witnesses were examined at length, and all possible light was thrown upon the case. As a result the committee has decided that he is not guilty of the charge, and he has been reinstated as driver of the hook and ladder company. There are many peculiar features to the case, and it seems that Morrison has been sadly misused in the affair. The many friends of Morrison were not inclined to believe in the charge in the beginning, and they will rejoice with him that he has been vindicated.

How About Hancock?
HANCOCK, Jan. 13.—The newly appointed postmistress, A. M. Drury, seems to give satisfaction to the patrons of Hancock and surrounding country.
Hancock has now reached a population of 300, and surrounded by an excellent country, is given the assurance of greater growth. Only five years old now, and yet a good grain business is being done here. Over 100,000 bushels of corn are eribed here at present. Little is being sold. Last year 400 ears of grain were shipped from this point.

Broadway's Case.
Yesterday Sheriff Reel received a telegram from Mayor Vaughan for S. A.
Broadway, saying: "Have written order from the high school during your absence investigation." Just what authority the governor has to issue such orders is a puzzle to many.

At about 7:30 last evening a stylish looking stranger entered Ben Mark's gambling place and succeeded in getting a $50 counterfeited bill changed. The fraud was discovered in about ten minutes, and the police went to look after the scoundrel, but had not been able to find him.

He Stood by His Father.
New York Times. "Pa," said a lazy little boy, as the old man came into the woodshed, "chain I sawed enough for to-day? I'm gettin' tired."

"Tired? Why, I bet your mother 10 cents that you would have that whole pile sawed before supper."

"You did?" shouted the boy, as he grasped the saw and expectorated on both hands. "You bet 10 cents on me? If the saw holds out you'll win the money."
